7. In regards to claims 5, 6, and 38, Marrah discloses the apparatus and method, wherein the current location entered by the listener is a zip code (See col. 1 lines 52-56).

8. In regards to claim 8, Marrah discloses the apparatus, wherein the current location entered by the listener is entered via a keypad integral to the apparatus (See col. 1 lines 62-65).

9. In regards to claims 10, 36, and 41, Marrah discloses the apparatus and method, wherein the current location of the receiver is provided by a global positioning system (GPS) receiver (GPS receiver 40) integral to the apparatus (See col. 3 lines 41-44).

10. In regards to claim 11, Marrah discloses the apparatus, wherein the current location of the receiver is provided by a global positioning system (GPS) receiver external to the apparatus (See col. 4 lines 30-41).

11. In regards to claims 12 and 13, Marrah discloses the apparatus, wherein the current location of the receiver is provided by a cellular phone integral to the apparatus (See col. 2 lines 59-63).

12. In regards to claim 14, Marrah discloses the apparatus, wherein the database of broadcast services is provided to the receiver by a removable memory module (See col. 5 lines 45-50).

17. In regards to claim 24, Marrah discloses the apparatus, wherein the external device is personal computer (PC) (See col. 2 lines 59-63).

Art Unit: 2642

18. In regards to claim 25, Marrah discloses the apparatus, wherein the external device is wireless phone (See col. 2 lines 59-63).

19. In regards to claim 33, Marrah discloses the apparatus, wherein the receiver (GPS receiver 40) is mounted within a mobile vehicle (See Fig. 2).

20. In regards to claims 34 and 37, Marrah discloses the apparatus and method, wherein the receiver is a hand-held device (See col. 2 lines 59-63).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

21. Claims 7, 9, and 15-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Marrah et al (US 6,728,522).

22. Marrah discloses all of claim 7 limitations, except the apparatus, wherein the current location entered by the listener is a city name. Marrah, however, does disclose the apparatus, wherein the current location entered by the listener is a city code and/or zip code (See col. 3-4 lines 65-21), therefore, it would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to employ this feature within the system as a way of providing to the listener another method of entering the current location.

23. Marrah discloses all of claim 9 limitations, except the apparatus, wherein the current location entered by the listener is entered via voice input. Marrah, however, does disclose the apparatus, wherein the current location entered by the listener is entered via a keypad integral to the apparatus (See col. 3 lines 1-10), therefore, it would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to employ this feature within the system as a way of providing to the listener another method of entering the current location.

24. Marrah discloses all of claim 15, 16, and 17 limitations, except the apparatus, wherein the database of broadcast services is provided to the receiver by a CD-ROM disc, a CD-RW disc, or a writable DVD. Marrah, however, does disclose the apparatus wherein the database of broadcast services is provided to the receiver by a removable memory module (See col. 5 lines 45-50).

Response to Arguments

25. Applicant's arguments filed 04/11/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that the reference, of Marrah, does not disclose or suggest, storing a set of listener preferences, or using the stored listener preferences as a predetermined selection criteria to select a group of broadcast signals. Examiner respectfully disagrees with this argument. Marrah, does disclose and suggest storing a set of listener preferences (See col. 1 lines 56-60), and using the stored listener preferences as a predetermined selection criteria to select a group of broadcast signals (See col. 1 lines 62-65). Applicant further argues that Marrah does not distinguish between the program formats of the channels, since all of the channels in the database are exclusively weather related. However, all of the channels in the database are not exclusively weather related. The channels are also used for AM and/or FM broadcast signals (See col. 3 lines 12-14). Marrah further discloses that a plurality of available weather band channels for receiving broadcast weather band signals, could also contain weather, emergency, or other messages (See col. 3 lines 45-59). Applicant states that the passage cited by the Examiner, neither discloses or suggests that the current location of the receiver is entered by the listener. Marrah, however, does disclose and suggest that the current location of the receiver is entered by the listener (See col. 1 lines 52-56 and col. 1 lines 62-65). Applicant further argues Marrah does not disclose the listener entering the zip code as the current location of the receiver. Examiner respectfully disagrees with this argument. Marrah, however, does disclose the listener entering the zip code as the current location of the receiver (See col. 1 lines 52-56). According to Applicant, Marrah, neither discloses or suggests the current location being entered by the listener via a keypad integral. Marrah, however, does disclose and suggest the current location being entered by the listener via a keypad integral (See col. 1 lines 62-65). Applicant further argues that Marrah makes no mention of a cellular phone used to obtain the current location of the receiver. Marrah, however, does make mention of a cellular phone used to obtain the current location of the receiver (See col. 2 lines 59-63).
